New Orleans Takes Third of Series by Hitting Pat Albris When Hits Meant Runs. Final Contest Wednesday.

BY WILL HAMILTON.

NEW ORLEANS, La. June 5.—The slugging Chicks started something with Big Tim Murchison Tunesday that they couldn't finish. When "Dixie" Carroll get a single and Griffin drove him in with a triple in the first initing the Chicks were through for the aftermoon They got to Tim for only four little hits after that and these were so widely scattered that only once dot they get near the plate.

Mack contended that the blade bewistagged was a shoulder blade as Blades flung his dogs across the plate, but of course, the decision stuck, and right or wrong, doesn't take any credit from allen's peg. It's really worth while to let a fellow like Allen go along misejudging flies just to see him make one of those heaves once in a while.

Slow and Easy.

Slow and Easy.

After that it was soft and slow mustofor the Chicks. Mack stuck in Dazzy Vance and Tod Sloan as pinch hitters in the ninth, but Tim struck out one and held the other to a little grounder. He was bearing down hard to beat the league leaders on his debut on the New Orleans grounds.

Dixis Carroll actually has a hitting rival in this series, and guess whom it might be? None other than 'Cawton' Knaupp. The last we heard from Irwin Howe, the celebrated statistician, about Knaupps hitting was that he addn't know where there was any such animule. It seems that knaupu's nach had been dropped out of the weekly averages because he wasn't pilling up anything but "at bats" but in this series "Cawton' has six hits already and that's nothing to what he would have bed if these Memphis fielders hadn't gone crazy. He got three hits Tuesday and doubted and single and the that's nothing to what he would have had if these Memphis fielders hadn't gone crazy. He got three hits Turnday, two doubles and a single, and the only reason he didn't get four was because he decided to sacrifice a man to second on one occasion.

Aside from Murchison, Knaupp, Allen, Carroll and Griffin, there was at least one other star of the game.

Bob Dowie is his name. Bob not only caught well, but the first time up he drove in the run that tied the score. The next time up, with a man on base, he worked Thweatt for a pass. The third time up, with two on, he took a wild pitch on the top of the head without even having a brainstorm about it. In fact, Dowle did all that a man reasonably could to make the score big. He has a penchant for getting on base that is like Larry Gilbert's, when things were breaking better for Larry than they are now.

The final round of the Tri-Club golf tournament will be played Wednesday over the links of the Colonial Country club and brings together Mrs. Pave Gaut and Mrs. Frank Guthrie, both of whom won their places by eliminating their closest rivals Tuesday. Mrs. Gaut deefated Mrs. K. G. Dufffeld, while Mrs. Guthrie won over Miss Minna Beasley.

LOOK OUT BELOW

The Chicks are finishing up in New Orleans, and after the final contest has been salted away by one or the other clubs, the Tribe will set sail for Mobile, where they are down for four tilts with Bob Coleman's Bears. The Grizzles are playing some real baseball at present, and should be a tough assignment for the locals.

In the clesing affair in New Orleans Dazzy Vance is dated to oppose Roy Walker. Both are righthanders and both have been going poorly of late, se anything may be anticipated. If either one is in form his team will win. The Chicks have dropped two out of the three games already played with the Pelicans, and a strong effort will be made to grab the last one, as it is badly needed, with the Little Rock Travelers and Mobile Bears knocking at the back door of the Chicks' tepes.

S. L. RACE IS TIGHT.

The race for the 1920 Southern league permant, is growing tighter with the days. One glance at the standing of the clubs reveals the fact that there are five clubs who are within striking distance of first place. Memphis is leading by a small margin, and then comes Little Rock, Mobile, Birmingham and New Dyleans, in the order named. Any sort of winning streak would serve to put any of these clubs in the lead, and as all are playing good ball at the present it would not be surnivising to see the standing given the biggest shakeup.

ent it would not be surprising to see the standing given the biggest shakeup of the scanon within the next few days. Nashville, Atlanta and Chattanooga are out of it, but the remaining five teams are very much in it, and the pertriest race of many seasons appears to be donning up on the baseball hurizen.

Judging from reports from New Orleans about Tuesday's game, Chief John J. McCloskey, of the Chicks, held his nose when he went up to the plate to protest to Umpire Jack Kerin about a close decision at the plate.

The arbiter evidently took it that someone was in need of a decoderant and brushed McCloskey away. McCloskey didn't get to open his trap, but he got over with his stant of holding his beak by way of imparting to the arbiter that he thought his umpiring was nearing a state of decomposition.

New Orleans fans evidently can't stand a losing ball club. They gazz their outfit every time it even threaters to lose a contest.

Old Hub Perdue started his first game for Nashville the other day, and got by with a win. Hub reported to the Vols with a sore arm, but after allowing an osteopath to rub it, the old salary wing came back into its own. Now The Squash says he is ready for five more good years in the Southern. JACK IN THE PICTURES.

We saw Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, in the movies Tuesday, and he did more fighting in one reel of the serial he is starring in than he does in forty rounds of ring milling.

Instead of knocking one bimbo out with a punch or two. Jack knocks out five or six as fast as they can come upon him, and frequently he sends the same bird down two or three times before he gets enough. It's all right for Jack, but how d you like to be the boys who are getting paid to take Jack's punches on the Jaw. They're real punches, and it's easy to see that they land.

Dempsey is like all amateur actors, he's ill at case. But where he blines is in the rough-house scenes, and there he makes up for any other deficiency he may show at other times.

ROUX VS. GANS.

Next Monday's card at the Southern Athletic club is going to be one of the best of the year. It will be a popular-priced show, and will bring together four of the best dark-skinned glove warriors in the country.

It's too early for an all-star ball club, but offhand we'd pick the following outfit to be the best in the Southern at the present:
Pitchers-Rohinson, Little Rock, Vanca, Memphis, Walker, New Orleans, Hengeveld, Little Rock, Hedge, Nashville, Catchers-Brottem, Little Rock, Deberry, New Orleans, First base, Golvin, Mobile, Second base-Lewis, Memphis, Shortstop-McMillan, Mobile, Third base-Fleider, New Orleans, Outfielders, Carroll, Memphis, Glibert, New Orleans, Mayer, Atlanta,

SEASON WITH A WIN

INTERPREDICT THE BOW SELECTION OF THE STATE OF

Tennessee Trapshooters Are Closely Contesting Honors and Fast Finish Is Certain. Mrs. Doggett Leads.

BY BOB PIGUE.

A new Ternessee trapshooting champion will be crowned Wednesday afternoon at the Tri-State fairgrounds, when the final 200 birds for the Tennessee title will be contested for. That there will be a fast finish is indicated by the close scores of Tuesday, which found four shooters closely bunched. If they maintain the fast pace they have started, the final 200 targets will be crashed in record-breaking fashion.

George Schmidt, or Memphis, is in the lead for the state title owing to his excellent shooting on Tuesday, when he smashed a total of 99, missing only one out of the 190, and it was a difficult bird. John Noel, of Nashville, was also in form, and pressed Schmidt hard, dropping only two birds out of his 100. T. Nash Buckingham, of Memphis, is in third place with 97, and S. L. Sells, another Memphian, was fourth with 96.

C, O, Pfeil, of Memphis, who is quite an expert with the scattergun, had hard luck. After turning in a card of 28 on his first 100, he fell down on his second hundred which counted for the state title, dropping eight, leaving him a 92. Pfeil may finish strong and is not out of it for the state title yet. If some of the leaders fail to show their Tuesday form on Wednesday there may be some upsets in the credictions, for there are several good shooters who smashed as high as 95 birds who are likely to turn in excellent cards Wednesday. The four leaders will undoubtedly have to continue their fine work to be in the race for the state honors.

The high professional for the first 200 birds Tuesday was T. H. Fox, representing the Hercules company. Fox breaking 194, dropping only six. George Schmidt and John Noel were on even terms with Fox. Fox showed the boysome real shooting on his first 100 birds
